

Jane Goodall

The Girl Who Learned to Wait

The true story of a girl who waited hours to see a hen lay an egg, and grew up to study wild chimpanzees and show the world they make and use tools.

Before reading

Look at the cover. Who is with Jane? What do you think she likes?

While reading

1. How did Jane find out how a hen lays an egg?
2. Why did the chimpanzees run away at first? What changed?
3. What did David Greybeard do with the grass stem?

After reading

1. Waiting can be hard! What is something you have waited a long time for?
2. Jane's mother listened instead of shouting. How do you think that helped Jane?
3. How could we help animals near our home?

The big idea

Wait. Watch. Wonder.

Say it together before looking at nature: it helps children slow down and notice more.

Try this together

A three-minute sit. Sit very still in a garden, park or by a window for three minutes (use a timer). Afterwards, each person shares one thing they noticed.

Words to talk about chimpanzee · patient · observe · tool · forest · protect

Tips for reading aloud: pause on the pictures and let children notice details first. There are no wrong answers to these questions; follow your child's curiosity. The back of the book has four simple experiments to try, and a free activity pack is at tarkasatales.com/activities.
